MESSAGE

The outbreak of COVID-19 in the early quarter of 2020 threatened the disruption of public service delivery. Many institutions were suddenly closed as a result of nationwide lockdown, but were expected to provide continuous service to the people.

Like many government institutions, the National Library of the Philippines (NLP) builds strategic plans for effective and responsive public service in times of pandemic. NLP made broad efforts to still connect to its stakeholders and clients, enhancing the means of extending the function and mandate of the institution. We, in NLP, continued to make strides in technology as we venture into using various platforms and mediums to keep our services available to clients and library users.

This year's celebration of Library and Information Service Month (LISM) persisted to promote the significance of public libraries in the community while facing the challenges of the world health crisis. Also, the annual recognition of public libraries and public librarians and personnel during the NLP's anniversary in August gave more confidence to public libraries and staff to become more resilient while remaining to be accountable to the people. Because we prioritize and value our clients, NLP Citizen's Charter 2020 Edition is included in this year's report for our customers' guidance.

Aside from this, NLP has incessantly facilitated online trainings and webinars to assist its affiliated libraries on how to adapt to the new normal through benchmarking and by sharing to them different library service innovations. In addition, with our goal to make online services and library resources widely accessible, NLP has reinforced its existing technology and website.

Through the steadfast effort and support of our staff and the creditable leadership of the management, I am grateful to present this year's Annual Report, which highlights the agency's creativity, determination, resourcefulness, and commitment to deliver expanded, efficient, and effective services despite the many restrictions of the pandemic.

NLP continues to be at the forefront of public libraries in ensuring learning continuity of the community and in promoting equal access to knowledge and information.

30TH LIBRARY AND INFORMATION SERVICES (LIS) MONTH

VIRTUAL CEREMONIES OPENS LIS MONTH CELEBRATION

Mandated to promote public awareness, the National Library of the Philippines (NLP) renders its invaluable service to the public through its annual celebration of the Library Information Service (LIS) Month with the theme, "LibREAL: Libraries, Relate, Engage, Advocate, Lead."

The National Commission for Culture and the Arts (NCCA) through the National Committee of Library Information Service (NCLIS) and the NLP, Proclamation No. 837 s. 1991, declares the entire month of November as Library and Information Service Month.

However, it was the first time to celebrate virtually the month-long program, due to the constraint posed by the pandemic. The virtual opening ceremonies were held on November 4, 2020, at 10:00 in the morning via Zoom and NLP's official Facebook and YouTube accounts.

A slide presentation of last year's LIS events launched the program, followed by the messages of President Rodrigo Roa Duterte and Vice President Leni Robredo. Maricel M. Ureña, the Chairperson of LIS Month 2020, welcomed all the participants, and an opening message was delivered by Cesar Gilbert Q. Adriano, the Director of the National Library of the Philippines.

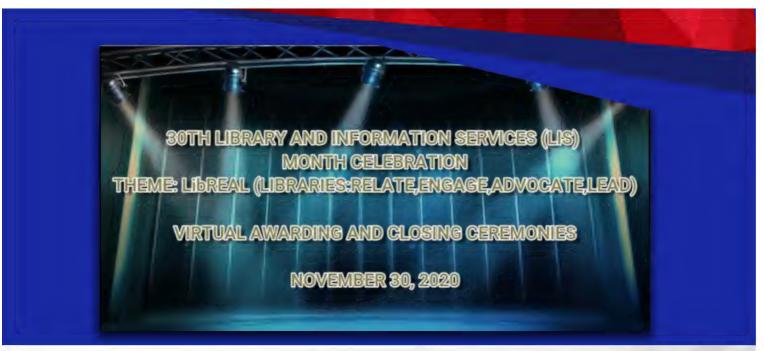

Another message by Professor Salvacion M. Allante, Head of the National Commission on Libraries and Information Services, was delivered. For a short entertainment, the NLP Band enchant the audience with its performance in the middle of the program.

And as the highlight of the event, Ms. Christine Mackenzie, the President of the International Federation of Library Associations (IFLA), gave an inspiring speech and was introduced by Ms. Melanie A. Ramirez, Chairperson of the Operations Committee.

Another significant part of the program is the virtual celebration of the LIS Month conducted by the Department of Science and Technology-Science and Technology Information Institute (DOST-STII) and the Dagupan City Public Library and Information Center.

A message from the Assistant Director of the National Library of the Philippines, Mr. Edgatdo B. Quiros, concluded the program.

Due to the Coronavirus pandemic raging throughout the country, the National Library of the Philippines (NLP) and the National Commission for Culture and the Arts-National Committee on Libraries and Information Services (NCCA-NCLIS) constrained to stage the Awarding and Closing Ceremonies of the 30th Library and Information Service Month not on a physical stage, but digitally and virtually through the internet. Like most other countries, mass gatherings here and abroad were not allowed in these trying times.

In keeping with the times, the program was held last November 30, 2020, via the NLPs' Youtube Channel and official Facebook page. The event's special guest was Professor Salvacion Allante, the Head of the NCLIS, the Honorable Gregorio B. Honasan II, Secretary of the Department of Information and Communication Technology (DICT), and Ms. Hanna Chaterina George Latuputty, the Regional Director of International Association of School Librarianship (IASL). Ms. Latuputty gave an inspiring special message.

Ms. Flodeliza Quiñones, Chairperson of the LIS Secretariat, introduced Secretary Honasan while Ms. Melanie Ramirez, Chairperson of the LIS Operations Committee had the honor of introducing the other VIP guest of the event, the keynote speaker Ms. Latuputty.

The testimonials of three library organizations which were presented, respectively, by Ms. Jean Vergara of the Association of Pangasinan Public Librarians Inc., Charito P. Basagre of the Philippine Association of School Librarians, and Remia Quebrar, of the Association of Public Information Specialist of Negros Occidental, were the other highlights of the event were. After the message was delivered by the various speakers, certificates of appreciation were presented.

Before the awarding proper the contest's official board of judges was presented through a slideshow presentation highlighting their accomplishments and qualifications. Winners of the various contest, such as Cutest Photo in the Library, Bookface, Digital Poster Book-based Share-a-Book; interactive storytelling, Vlog on Libraries/ MakiVlog Na! LibREALlang, May Papremyo Pa, and Best Online Activities were given their awards, which consisted of a cash prize and an official certificate of Recognition.

As in previous years' awards ceremonies, even in the virtual event, the program was spiced up with an entertainment number featuring the University of the Philippines Manila Chorale Group.

CESAR GILBERT Q. ADRIANO

NLP Director Cesar Gilbert Q. Adriano opened the program with his message and virtual closing remark from the Chairman of NCAA, Mr. Arsenio "Nick" Lizaso.

NLP AND ISSN PH ATTEND 45TH MEETING OF DIRECTORS

The International Standard Serial Number (ISSN) Philippines attended the 45th Meeting of Directors of ISSN National Centres held remotely via GoToMeeting on November 25, 2020.

The National Library of the Philippines (NLP) and the ISSN National Center Philippines, shared a video presentation during the meeting. Director Cesar Gilbert Q. Adriano reported that in response to the national crisis faced by the country, the NLP waived the Registration Fee for ISSN beginning May 22, 2020, through Public Advisory No. JET-01 and JET-03 to this effect.

He also mentioned that over the last three years, there is a decreasing number of ISSN assignments. However, the linked ISSN increases, which means that electronic journals, periodicals, serials, and continuing resources are now being developed in the Philippines by various publishers.

YEAR	ISSN PRINT ASSIGNED	LINKED ISSN ASSIGNED
2018	393	30
2019	324	10

ISSN is one of the contributors to the Enhanced Philippine Development Plan 2017-2022 Results Matrices on Chapter 7 Promoting Philippine Culture and Values under the Sub-Sector Outcome "Pagkamalikhain" value of creative excellence advanced that shows in the number of unique Filipino published works registered (annual).

Director Adriano shares the NLP's long term plans: 1. Create a committee on the National Level to have local standardization activities relating to serials and other continuing resources and their bibliographic control, notably by checking the consistency between the rules specified in the ISSN standard and ISSN Manual and local bibliographic standards and rules; 2. Request to the International Center training offered by the ISSN International Center (IC), either in-person or remotely; 3. Deputize public libraries as recipients of the applications of ISSN in different regions of the country and to promote the use of ISSN as a control number by publishers, subscription agents, libraries, and other information providers at the national level; and, 4. Develop ISSN Online Application System.

Resolutions for the 45th ISSN Directors Meeting were also formulated:

- 1. The ISSN International Centre and the National Centres resolve to work together to have a consistent response to questionable publisher requests, and communicate clearly that the ISO 3297 standard states that an ISSN is not a stamp of approval of the content of any continuing resource.
- 2. ISSN+ will replace the Virtual system. The ISSN+ has new features such as gathering statistics and data quality checking. ISSN National Centres are advised to have a correct system requirement to connect and access the ISSN+ services.
- 3. All National Centres will review their websites, ISSN application, and request forms to ensure that their language and scope are in alignment with the ISO 3297.

The next Directors' Meeting will be held in 2021 at the Deutsche Nationalbibliothek in Frankfurt am Main, Germany dates to be announced.

NLP AND KORONADAL CITY SIGN MOA FOR LIBRARY AFFILIATION

The first-ever virtual signing of the Memorandum of Agreement (MOA) happened last November 23, 2020, between the National Library of the Philippines (NLP) and the City of Koronadal Government. This event is for the reaffirmation of the affiliation of the City of Koronadal Library with NLP. Director Cesar Gilbert Q. Adriano is present as the representative of NLP and Mayor Eliordo Ogena for the City of Koronadal City Government.

Affiliation with the NLP helps in the mission of providing equitable access to library resources through a system of public libraries. Despite being technologically dependent, there is still information that can be found only in the library. More libraries established and affiliated will be a step in disseminating information to the community.

Spearheaded by Mr. Erwin Lagustan, the City Librarian of the City of Koronadal Library, the event was live via Google Meet. The program concluded with speeches delivered by Director Adriano and Mayor Ogena.

BOOK FACE CONTEST

The top Three winners of the Book Face Contest

The oft-quoted phrase "A picture is worth a thousand words," was invented by an advertising executive, Fred A. Barnard. A graphic illustration can convey a more emphatic message than mere words ever could in most communications.

It is in this spirit that, The Book Face contest was conceptualized by the National Library of the Philippines (NLP) and the National Commission for Culture and the Arts-National Committee on Libraries and Information Services (NCCA-NCLIS). The contest aims to showcase the Filipinos' creativity through the use of books as artistic objects and to foster the love for reading through the promotion of Philippine print collections.

The contest involves strategically augmenting or obscuring selected parts of the body of face other objects alongside a book cover that features a matching body part so that it appears a melding of life and art.

Twenty-three out of ninety-five entries were submitted by various contestants and selected by the judges and posted on the NLP's Facebook page. These carefully chosen entries then competed for the highest number of netizen favorable responses through their corresponding number of "loves" (heart emoji) as a share.

The book by Mia Alvar entitled "In the Country" was used by seven contestants, followed by different books about Rizal with six (6) entries.

The contestant generated more than 67,700 views and 1,500 engagements on the NLP Facebook page. According to one of the judges, the contest was "a refreshing activity for the people to take their minds off things that stresses them, especially during the pandemic. This is a welcome distraction that showcased the artistic side of the Junior High School students who joined."

Ultimately, the winners were Hannah Dominique E. Belarmino, who won 1st prize, and Yumiko Cheska M. Cando, and Anica Millaine I. Cubillejo, who won 2nd and 3rd prize, respectively.

There's no place a bookworm would rather be than the library. A warm place indoors and cozying up to a good book is equivalent to paradise to many of them. Actual books that can be held in the hands, with printed text on paper bound between covers, either softbound or hardbound, remain popular and revered items especially in this when people are not only encouraged but sometimes required to stay indoors to avoid the virus.

To showcase these memorable moments between bookworms and books inside their beloved libraries, a photo contest entitled "the Cutest Photo in the Library" was launched by the National Library of the Philippines (NLP) and the National Commission for the Culture and the Arts- National Committee on the Libraries and Information Service (NCCA-NCLIS) to promote and raise the consciousness about reading and libraries in the country. The contest successfully attracted scores of entries, with twenty-three (23) out of forty-one (41) entries consisting of pictures taken in the library and contestant's mini-library of reading in their own homes.

Nine entries were chosen by the judges that all passed the requirements and 20% measure of audience response counting the number of hearts and shares of the submitted photos. These photographs managed to reach 18.9k total viewers and engaged 256 people on the NLP's Facebook page.

Ultimately, the booklover with the best photo was Maria Natasia Q. Natividad, who won 1st Prize. Angeline E. Escarnuela and Mary Gene P. Fernandez took the 2nd and 3rd prize, respectively.

Three entries of the Cutest Photo in the Library Contest who won the top prize.

And as a primary component of this month-long celebration, the National Library in the auspices and direction of the National Commission for Culture and the Arts- National Committee on Libraries and Information Services (NCCA-NCLIS) conducted the Maki Vlog na! BASIC PUPPETRY WORKSHOP

One of the most interesting and unique workshops conducted during the Library and Information Services Month was the Basic Puppetry Workshop. It was facilitated by Wanlu, a world-class Filipino puppeteer and ventriloquist who has yearly represented the Philippines in International Puppetry Festivals in Malaysia, Thailand, Singapore, Vietnam, and Japan through the auspices for himself the title "Philippine Ambassador of Puppetry."

Wanlu is also the author of a book entitled "Ang Batang Gustong Maging Papet" and a Talentadong Pinoy Hall of Fame Awardee. He is also a member of the International Ventriloquist Society based in the USA. One of his regular activities is a weekly talk on The New Channel (TNC) dubbed "The Papet Stories," which features various puppeteers and puppetry arts from all over the world.

The workshop session conducted by Wanlu was broadcast live via Facebook's Stream yard last November 6, 2020. There were 2,913 views garnered during the session from a total of 46 participants officially registered. In these sessions, he gave tutorials on how to make a simple sock puppet as well as a progression of more complicated puppets.

Wanlu also shared basic techniques on how to manipulate these puppets and demonstrated how to open and close the lips of the puppet to stimulate talking, moving of head from left to right, and other basic movements. To show this, he performed a puppet show with his puppet named "Nicolo. The viewers of the entire puppetry workshop truly enjoyed watching the show

For those who wanted to pursue and go beyond the basics and were more interested in puppetry more as a hobby or career, he suggested places where they could get more advanced training, such as the Cultural Center of the Philippines (CCP) and the International Ventriloquist Society (IVS).

Through this workshop, we can promote one of the agenda of the United Nation's Sustainable Development Goals -- the love for book and reading.

PHILIPPINE LIBRARIES AND THEIR ROLES IN THE UNITED NATIONS SUSTAINABLE DEVELOPMENT GOALS

The United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) is a framework adopted by its 193 member states in September 2015 to address the various global and societal challenges that confronted the planet. These challenges have worsened by the current global pandemic experienced by every country, rich or poor, developed or underdeveloped. Poverty, health, inequality, education, climate change, peace, and job security are only some of the pressing concerns sought to addressed by the world body. In this regard, seventeen (17) development goals have been identified to serve as a blueprint towards a better and sustainable future.

Congruent with these goals, on November 20, 2020, the National Library of the Philippines, in cooperation with the American Library Association (ALA), conducted a free webinar entitled "Philippine Libraries and Their Roles in the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals." The activity was considered as one of the highlights of the commemoration of the 30th Library and Information Services (LIS) month with the theme, "LibREAL: Libraries, Relate, Engage, Advocate and Lead."

This significant event in the webinar conducted in collaboration with the different library associations in the Philippines: the Philippine Librarians Association, Inc., the Association of Librarians in the Public Sector, the Philippine Association of Academic/Research Librarians, the Philippine Association of Teacher of Library and Information Science, the Philippine Association of School Librarians, Inc., the Association of Special Libraries of the Philippines, the Council of Deans and Heads of LIS Schools in the Philippines, the Medical and Health Librarians Association of the Philippines, the Philippine Group of Law Librarians and the National Commission for Culture and the Arts-National Committee on Libraries and Information Services.

At least 1,500 local and foreign participants registered on the event, with each participant focused on the objective of the webinar, namely:

- 1. Know the best practices and recommendation for libraries in South East Asia,
- 2. Gain in-depth knowledge on libraries as social change agents, and
- 3. Impart knowledge on how libraries are helping communities realize the SDGs.

These goals were designed and intended for the participating libraries/librarians and Philippine libraries, in particular, to ensure that their plans, activities, and programs are aligned and following the 17 identified sustainable development goals.

Presiding over the webinar was the president of the American Library Association (ALA) for 2018-2019 and the ALA Chair of the UN 2030 Sustainable Development Goals Task Force, Ms. Loida Garcia-Febo, who provided a keynote address that focused on the general roles of libraries in the achievement of SDGs.

Some of the other distinguished resource people were Dr. Basheerhamad Shadrach, Advisor of the Commonwealth of Learning in Canada, who discussed the benchmark and activities that libraries in South East Asia may adopt to meet the set goals as agents of societal changes: Ms. Donna Wills Scheeder, 2015-1027 president of the International Federation of Library Associations and Institutions (IFLA), who highlighted how libraries transform the practice of society and countries; and lastly, Ms. Erika Long, a school librarian from Tennessee, Ms. Robin Kear, Liason Librarian from the University of Pittsburgh, and Mr. John Szabo, Director of the Los Angeles Public Library, who shared how school libraries, academic libraries, and public libraries set examples and provide assistance for communities to reach the objectives.

The webinar received feedback from the participants, who mostly expressed and reaffirmed the crucial roles libraries and librarians play in the attainment of the different sustainable goals. They also looked forward to conducting a follow-up program in their respective workplaces to address this call to action.

Director Cesa Gilbert Q. Adriano emphasized that societal changes initiated by libraries, however small they may seem to be, create an impact when viewed collectively.

FILIPINIANA OF THE NLP "A Trove of Cultural and Intellectual Publications and Other Materials"

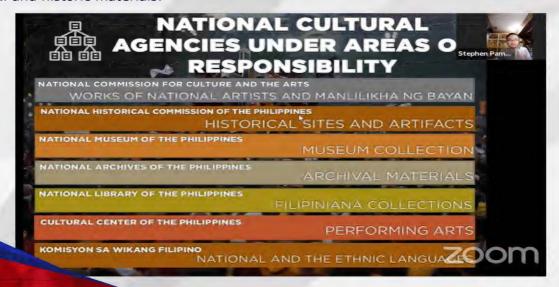

PRESERVING AND PROTECTING FILIPINIANA COLLECTIONS

In line with the 30th year celebration of the Library and Information Services (LIS), the Filipiniana Division prepared a two-day webinar-workshop via Zoom and the National Library (NLP) Facebook page entitled, "Filipiniana of the NLP: A Trove of Cultural and Intellectual Publications and other Materials."

Esteemed speakers who are expert on their field were able to share significant information about the libraries' role in preserving cultural and historical documents.

Stephen John A. Pamorada, Project Manager of PRECUP (NCAA) discussed "The Philippine Registry of Cultural Property (PRECUP): NCCA and NLP Programs." He emphasized the significant role of NLP in the registry and policy formulation to ensure protection of Filipiniana Collections. He mentioned some of the NLP's list of cultural properties as part of our national heritage and history. According to him, it is important to have a cultural mapping of the primary resources and documents despite of the many challenges in the preservation and protection of cultural and historic materials.

Local History Collections and Its Role in the Preservation of Philippine Cultural Heritage

Ian Christopher B. Alfonso
Secretariat Head, NHCP Local Historical Committees Network

20 November 2020 • Via ZOOM

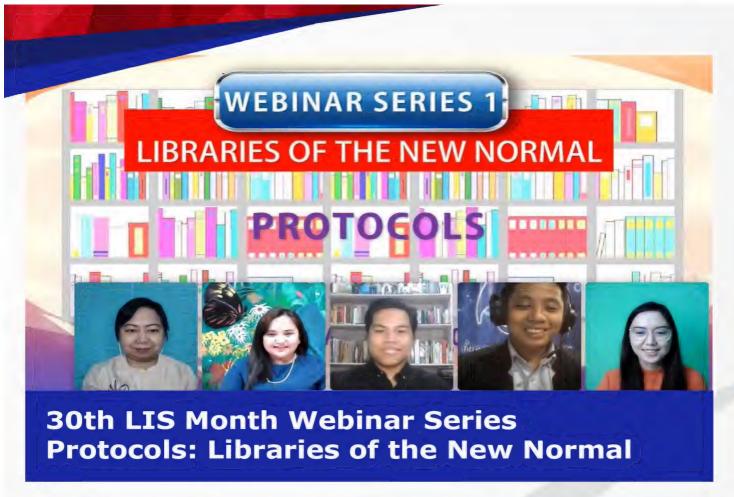

And to broaden the knowledge in preservation management, Emma M. Rey, President of Philippine Librarians Association, Inc., elaborated on the Management Preservation of Cultural Heritage Collections. She also emphasized on planning an administrative structure for preservation programs and on the importance of general action survey for library, to maintain the condition of the Filipiniana collections specially the rare materials.

Preserving these type of collections is also vital in protecting resources for recording and documenting history. Through the discussions made by Ian Christopher Alfonso from the National Historical Commission of the Philippines (NHCP), he pointed out the function of NLP in conserving local history collection in the preservation of the cultural heritage. Furthermore, he mentioned on the democratization of national and local history by making the resources more accessible to the public.

In relation to this, for the past ten years, NLP exerted best effort to preserve its prime collection according to the presentation of Anne Rosette G. Crelencia, the Assistant Chief of the Filipiniana Division of the National Library who shared about "NLP Preservation Initiatives." She was able to present some of the projects and partnerships of the NLP with other institutions from 2010 to present.

The two-day seminar, enriched the knowledge of the participants in the significant role of the library as guardians of the Filipiniana collections. NLP continues its programs in preservation and conservation of cultural and historical materials to promote our national heritage. Without these initiatives, our history and culture may be forgotten if resources like this will not be taken cared of. And through the words of Ma'am Emma M. Rey, preservation is better than conservation, much better than restoration.

The stifling and suffocating conditions arising out of the current pandemic has not deterred the National Library of the Philippines (NLP) from going about its mandated functions, albeit in a safe and modified manner. And as part of the 30th LIS month celebration with the theme "Library, Relate, Engage, Advocate, Lead," a webinar series entitled Protocols: Libraries of the New Normal held on November 4, 2020, via Webinar Jam.

The webinar featured resource speakers and experts from the La Salle Greenhills Association of Special Libraries of the Philippines, De Las Sale University- Manila, and the Urdaneta City Library. The discussions were about the following themes:

The different library services and practices can continue serving the clientele despite the pandemic.

Others would say that the webinar helps them to understands the protocol implemented within the library in the new normal set-up and gives them a clear idea of how the librarian remains resilient.

PLD LAUNCHED ITS OLESPLP IN TIME OF COVID-19 OUTBREAK

On April 15, 2020, the National Library of the Philippines' (NLP) Public Libraries Division (PLD) launched the Online Learning on Essential Skills for Public Library Personnel (OLESPLP). This online learning will have three batches, and each will run every quarter of 2020.

In this time of COVID-19 outbreak, from face-to-face or in-person training format, this online learning has been developed by the PLD. The NLP assisted by the Information Technology Division (ITD) to join the movement on "Keeping the Doors of Learning Open," and address the training needs of public library personnel, while both the PLD Staff and participants undergo a work from home arrangement. It also aimed to empower public library personnel in asserting the importance of their roles and responsibilities in their communities by providing relevant and appropriate library programming and services. Furthermore, this will make PLD continuously perform its commitment in providing relevant training and improve products and services in its Training Section.

The OLESPLP is a free online learning program on public library concepts, services, and best practices. It features 10 self-paced, asynchronous, and online modules, each dedicated to a specific element of the final output. Every module includes text, informational videos, and activities that can be taken within a specific schedule. This online learning will run for 11 weeks and offers approximately 448 hours. However, each module can be completed in 4-8 hours. Furthermore, each Online Module has a designated online teacher to guide online learners in an online learning environment.

Upon completion of the Online Learning, participants should be able to have the capacity to:

- 1. describe, analyze, and evaluate the community needs, skills, and interests in their respective public libraries, and understand their vital role where sources and access to information on culture, education, and society take place, thus, to effectively and efficiently serve their communities;
- 2. integrate knowledge on Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs), Philippine Development Plan (PDP), and NLP-PLD Vision and Mission to their public library programs and services, and;
- 3. integrate theories and knowledge in partnership, promotion, communication, monitoring, and evaluation in the formulation and implementation of a 3-year development plan.

Expected to complete the 10-online module, the online learners must submit their activity outputs and their 3-year development plan for each participating public library as their final output.

The first run of this OLESPLP started on April 15, 2020, and will end on June 30, 2020, participated by 87 public library personnel from 56 public libraries nationwide. The second and third runs will be in the following quarters of the year.

Capping the year, the PLD offered five training programs in the last quarter of 2020. These were the following:

- 1. Webinar on Free Resources for Online Learning administered on 23 October 2020;
- 2. The Online Training-Orientation for the National Library of the Philippines Newly Affiliated Public Libraries and Online Learning on Essential Skills for Public Library Personnel last 11 November 2020;
- 3. The Webinar on Philippine Libraries and Their Roles in the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals conducted last 20 November 2020;
- 4. the Webinar on Story Telling in the New Normal facilitated on 23 November 2020, and:
- 5. The Webinar on Libraries at the Turning Point to the New Normal held last 27 November 2020.

A total of 1,839 participants and 602 public libraries attended the training activities.

A common goal exists between these training programs: ensuring that the plans, activities, and programs set by libraries (whether public, academic, school and even special libraries) remain uninterrupted amidst the pandemic. It equipped our library personnel with knowledge and skills on how to improve further the services they offer. Also, to market these among their users by utilizing all available means, including electronic or digital facilities. It also gave them insights into the responsibilities they have to fulfill as affiliate libraries of the National Library of the Philippines and their stake in achieving the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals.

Participants evaluated the programs positively and are looking forward to applying, and further developing the learnings they have acquired. Training certificates were given, and in case they want to revisit and review the programs, replay links of the sessions were also provided. As a token of appreciation, all the resource speakers were given Certificates of Appreciation duly-signed Ms. Blesila Velasco, the head of the PLD, and Mr. Cesar Gilbert Adriano, the director of the NLP.
